

Short Bio

Full Name

Academic degree (if any)

Organization name, accordingly to the Charter of the organization

Position

About you (scientific directions, results of activities, important facts)

Awards and grants (if any)

Photo in size not less than 1200 px by the long side, 300 dpi

Example:

Michael Leonidas Chikindas

Short Bio - 2021

Dr. Michael L. Chikindas is a Head of the Health Promoting Naturals Laboratory and a Professor at the School of Environmental and Biological Sciences (Rutgers State University). He serves as a Head of the Center for Agrobiotechnology (Don State Technical University, Rostov-on-Don, Russia). Dr. Chikindas is an applied molecular microbiologist studying natural-derived antimicrobials and probiotics for use in personal care, and agriculture. He holds the M.S. summa cum laude degree in Microbial Genetics from the Yerevan State University (Armenia) and the Ph.D. degree from the Institute of Genetics and Selection of Industrial Microorganisms (Moscow, Russia). Dr. Chikindas' professional background includes positions at the state research institutions (Russia), industry (Unilever UK and Janssen Research Foundation, Belgium) and academia (University of Groningen and Rutgers State University). Dr. Chikindas' external funding stems from private industries/organizations such as Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and from governmental agencies such as NIH, USDA, NSF, Ministry of Science and Higher Education of the Russian Federation, Russian Science Foundation, etc., summing to 23 grants/funded projects he served as a PI or a co-PI, totaling in about $9 million. He co-authored several patents, more than 70 papers and six book chapters. Dr. Chikindas serves as a Member of the Editorial Boards of Applied and Environmental Microbiology, Journal of Applied Microbiology, Letters in Applied Microbiology, and Beneficial Microbes. Dr. Chikindas is a founder and Editor-in-Chief of Probiotics and Antimicrobial Proteins.